Keep up to date with all the good things your fellow Palm Lake Resort family is up to Welcome.

So, it has been a busy time with lots of things happening in the last month or so. We have experienced a rare cyclone on the South East Coast. Thankfully, we here at Palm Lake Resort Mt Warren Park escaped with very minimal damage, no loss of power or water supplies - unlike some people who have lost their roofs, possessions and homes once again, after just repairing from past floods and storms.

I would like to take this opportunity to extend a warm welcome to our newest homeowners who have moved into this charming resort, Robyn (Home 72) and Ian and Wendy (Home 60). We trust that you will really enjoy living here and make some new friends to pass the time away with.

In the last few months, we, your caretakers, took time out to chill and relax on a coastal holiday. Unfortunately we had to return early to avoid getting locked in with the cyclone approaching and warnings in the area not to go on the roads. To witness the calm, sunny days turn into wild coastal surges and winds was quite an experience, then returning to ensure the safety of the resort and our valued homeowners.

Though you often see us caretakers working in the clubhouse and/or around the roadways of the resort, please save all questions, comments and suggestions until you visit the office (between 9am and 12pm, Monday to Friday) or put them in writing to the office or caretaker letter box at the main entrance. This would be much appreciated. We are always here to listen.

We have buyers wanting to come into the resort so if you are considering selling, please contact the office.

"One of our greatest powers is simply being kind to each other." - Maria K

Until next time,

Rik and Trish

Recycling

Guidelines for red recycle bins need to be followed for health and environmental reasons, especially in this hot weather.

DO:

- Place only recyclable items in the bin.
- Rinse/wash containers and cans before placing in recycle bins.
- Read the packaging to see if it can be recycled.

DON'T:

- Place items that are not recyclable in the bin.
- No used tissues - No dirty food containers - No clothing
- No rubbish that should go in the blue land-fill bins provided to you.

Rubbish collection

Just a friendly reminder for your Wednesday rubbish bin collection: please make sure that all rubbish is placed inside the bin. Remember to recycle what you can using the red bins. For any bulky items, you can take them to the local refuse facility, which is conveniently just three minutes away around the corner. Thank you for helping keep our community clean!

It's a wild life!

Our resort isn't just home to happy human homeowners - there are also a few wild animals in our midst. This blue tongue lizard was spotted crossing the entrance driveway. Don't worry, we hurried it along as we didn't want anyone running it over! The water dragon can often be heard scratching on the office door. Perhaps he's putting his request in for some chips of apple.?

Did you know?

You can rewire your brain to be happy by simply recalling three things you're grateful for every day for 21 days. Try it out! It can change your life

Green thumbs up.

IT DOESN'T MATTER WHERE IN YOUR HOME YOU PLACE THEM, POTTED PLANTS ADD A SPECIAL SOMETHING TO ANY AND EVERY INTERIOR. THEY INJECT LITERAL LIFE INTO INANIMATE SPACES AND BEYOND THAT, THEY BENEFIT HOMES – AND THE HUMANS THAT INHABIT THEM – BY FILTERING AIR AND ABSORBING AIRBORNE TOXINS.

The biggest problem homeowners have with incorporating potted plants into their interior scheme is keeping them alive. Yes, unfortunately, many of us either set and forget our plants or at the other end of the scale, we shower them with too much love (read: water) and the end result is the same. Having said that, the biggest mistake homeowners make around indoor plants is in the very first step: Choosing the wrong plant for the space. You simply can't enter a nursery, fall in love with any lush pot of greenery and expect it to live anywhere in your home. Just like humans, plants can be fussy when it comes to their living arrangements. To help get you off on the right foot with adding plants to your home interior, follow these guidelines and suggestions to find a plant for some of the most obvious places...

In the kitchen

A lovely little potted plant on a bright kitchen windowsill or a bright benchtop, can do wonders for the heart of your home. Try these options that are cute in size but add mighty impact:

- Geranium: Compact. Flowers beautifully in full sun.
- African Violet: Prefers bright light but not extreme heat, making it great for sunny but cooler windowsills.
- Kalanchoe: A flowering succulent that enjoys direct sun.
- Echeveria: A beautiful rosette-shaped succulent that does well in sunny spots. Enmasse, these guys add even more impact. For example, put four different Echeveria in four individual but matching/coordinating pots and group them together on a bright bench.

- Basil: Grows well in a sunny spot with regular watering.
- Thyme: A hardy herb that loves warmth and sunlight.

In the bathroom

Bathrooms are typically high humidity, low light spaces with temperature fluctuations, so the best plants for these conditions are ones that thrive in moisture-rich environments.

- Peace Lily (Spathiphyllum): Handles low light and high humidity, plus it purifies the air.
- ZZ Plant (Zamioculcas zamiifolia): Extremely hardy, tolerates low light and moisture.
- Cast Iron Plant (Aspidistra elatior): Almost indestructible and thrives in low light.
- Boston Fern (Nephrolepis exaltata): Loves humidity but needs regular watering. The good thing here is that you're probably more likely to remember to water your boston fern given it's a room where water is easily accessible.
- Maidenhair Fern (Adiantum spp.): Thrives in high humidity, though it needs consistent moisture. Again, a great location to remember to water your fern.
- Bird's Nest Fern (Asplenium nidus): Tolerates low light and loves moisture.

In the living area

These spaces call for larger plants that make more of a statement. Living spaces can be bright, or offer lower/ indirect light, depending on the orientation of your home and the available windows so you'll want something that can handle filtered light while also able to grow to a good indoor size.

- Fiddle Leaf Fig (Ficus lyrata): A popular indoor tree with large, glossy leaves. Prefers bright, indirect light and occasional watering.
- Rubber Plant (Ficus elastica): Low maintenance with dark green or variegated leaves; thrives in bright, indirect light.
- Bird of Paradise (Strelitzia reginae or Strelitzia nicolai): Large tropical plant with broad leaves. Loves bright spaces but not direct sun.
- Kentia Palm (Howea forsteriana): A graceful, slow-growing palm that adapts well to indoor conditions.
- Parlor Palm (Chamaedorea elegans): Classic indoor palm with a soft, tropical look; thrives in bright, indirect light.
- Dragon Tree (Dracaena marginata): Tall and slim with striking foliage, easy to care for, great for indoor air quality.
- Umbrella Tree (Schefflera actinophylla): Lush and bushy with an elegant shape, perfect for bright rooms.

From the ceiling

Hanging pots can provide unexpected drama in the right interior spaces. They can fill a space well and bring height to that space. Low-maintenance, lush indoor hanging plants are quite inexpensive and many require minimal care, including:

- Heartleaf Philodendron (Philodendron hederaceum): A fast-growing, trailing plant that thrives in indirect light and only needs occasional watering.
- Spider Plant (Chlorophytum comosum): Hardy and adaptable, this strappy-leaved specimen gets better and better as it matures as it produces baby 'spiderettes' that drape beautifully down from the pot.
- Devil's Ivy (Epipremnum aureum): One of the easiest plants to grow. It tolerates low light, occasional neglect and still looks full and lush. If you like this one, you'll also love the striking green and yellow variegated leaves of Philodendron Brasil and the bright lime-green version called Neon Pothos and finally, Marble Queen Pothos for its variegated white/green marbled leaves.
- Silver Satin Pothos (Scindapsus pictus): Another close relative of Devil's Ivy with velvety, silvery-speckled leaves.

...and a few other hot tips

- If you want to make a statement in your living space but your preferred indoor plant is smaller and doesn't have a tall, upright shape, simply choose a tall statement pot that lifts your plant off the ground.
- If the spot you want to fill is simply too dark for any plant to thrive, a vase filled with greenery is a great substitute. Monstera (Monstera deliciosa) offers iconic split leaves that last weeks in water. Lucky Bamboo (Dracaena sanderiana) thrives in water, adding height and structure to a vase. Eucalyptus branches are another great option.
- It's always a good idea to have a few indoor plants on an indoors/outdoors rotation so they are always getting a period of time outside to recharge and revitalise. They'll also love a little incidental nitrate-filled rainwater while they're outside having a holiday.

Death by chocolate.

IT'S OFFICIALLY THE SEASON OF CHOCOLATE, WHICH MEANS YOU'LL PROBABLY RECEIVE A LOT OF IT OVER THE COMING WEEKS. INSTEAD OF GORGING ON IT ALL IN ONE SITTING, SPREAD THE LOVE BY TURNING IT INTO OTHER CHOCOLATE-Y CREATIONS. YOUR FRIENDS AND FAMILY (AND YOUR DENTIST!)

Chocolate fondue

The most delicious addition to any dinner party! Melt down those Easter bunnies and eggs into a gooey chocolate sauce, cut up some fresh fruit (strawberries, raspberries, bananas) and other sweet treats (peanuts, marshmallows, honeycomb chunks) and get dipping.

Bonus: You can turn your fondue party into a long-lasting snack by refrigerating your chocolate-dipped goodies.

Chocolate bark

It's so simple, but so delicious. Chocolate bark is literally melted chocolate poured onto a baking tray, and sprinkled with whatever toppings you like. Dried fruit and nuts make it ever so slightly healthy, but you can also get experimental making it taste like your favourite chocolate bars – sprinkle desiccated coconut for a Bounty Bar effect, or Twix-inspired caramel and crushed biscuits.

Chocolate pudding

Combine one cup of breadcrumbs, 1 ounce of brown sugar and 1 ounce of chocolate in a bowl. In a pot, add 2 ounces of butter and 1 cup of milk and bring to a boil, then pour into the bowl with the breadcrumb mixture. Let it soak for a few minutes. In another bowl, whisk two eggs (keeping back one egg white) and add to the breadcrumb mixture, along with vanilla essence (to taste). Transfer the mixture to a greased pie dish and bake until set. Whisk the remaining egg white and a little sugar to a froth, roughly add to the top of the pudding and bake to a pale brown. Enjoy!

Chocolate crisps

An Australian classic! Melt a block of milk chocolate (or 180g of Easter chocolate). Add as many cornflakes as the melted chocolate will absorb. Mix lightly and drop in small mounds on a greaseproof paper. Allow to set hard in refrigerator or freezer.

Chocolate eclairs

Dissolve 1 ounce of butter in 4 tablespoons of hot water. When quite mixed, add 1z ounces self-raising flour, remove from heat, stir in a pinch of salt. Slowly, add 3 eggs and 3 ounces of sugar. Beat all thoroughly for 2 or 3 minutes; then, with a wooden spoon, divide mixture into 16 rolls 3 inches long and 1 inch wide. Bake in hot oven on greased tin till a golden brown. With a sharp knife, split open each eclair at one side and fill the centre with whipped cream. Make some icing with 6 ounces icing sugar, the whites of 2 eggs whipped to a stiff froth and enough chocolate to colour well; when this is smooth add a little lemon juice and beat well. Cover the eclairs with this mixture and set aside to harden.

Happy birthday to you!

We have some exciting birthdays coming up in the next few months. Happy birthday to all! We look forward to celebrating you on your special day.

THE PALM LAKE GROUP SPANS 30 RESORT ADDRESSES ACROSS THREE STATES AND SOME 10,000 PEOPLE CALL PALM LAKE GROUP HOME, SO THERE IS ALWAYS PLENTY OF GOOD NEWS AROUND OUR GROUNDS. IN THIS REGULAR SERIES, WE SHARE WITH YOU SOME STORIES OF WHAT YOUR FELLOW PALM LAKE RESORT 'FAMILY MEMBERS' HAVE BEEN UP TO RECENTLY - WHETHER THEY'RE JOINING FORCES TO DO GOOD IN THE GREATER COMMUNITY OR JOINING FORCES FOR FUN. ACROSS ALL OUR PALM LAKE RESORTS, 'PEOPLE' REALLY ARE OUR SUPERPOWER!

Palm Lake Care needs you.

As you know, the Palm Lake Group portfolio includes more than two dozen over-50s resort communities as well as seven aged caring communities across Queensland's south-east corner.

While our Palm Lake Care teams provide highly reputable 24-7 nursing support and engaging Lifestyle programs, they are currently on the hunt for community volunteers. In each community, these volunteers can choose to spend one-on-one time with the residents or support our teams in running group activities and excursions etc.

Palm Lake Resort Beachmere Bay's Robyn Crosbie says she loves nothing more than volunteering her time at Palm Lake Care Beachmere's aged caring community which is conveniently across the road from her resort.

"I've been volunteering there every week for the past six years, helping the Lifestyle Team facilitate their activities program," she smiles.

For example, you can find Robyn going on bus trips with the residents - taking them out to lunch and on scenic drives, sometimes also to church.

"Volunteering is not for everyone but I love it. My Dad was in aged care for seven years so I'm very used to the setting," Robyn explains. "I love a chat and find it very easy to talk to the residents. I love listening to their stories and they love listening to mine."

If you're based nearby one of our seven Palm Lake Care communities and would like to assist as a volunteer, we encourage you to make an inquiry. Simply visit www.palmlakecare.com.au and you'll find all the contact details you'll need there.

Lucky Phil.

Palm Lake Resort Eagleby homeowner Phil McDonald has just celebrated his 100th birthday! The Eagleby community knows Phil as an avid (lead) bowler. He's a favourite teammate among the skips, always close to the jack. Even if his bowl lands just a few feet out, he curses himself, though most of us would be thrilled to bowl as well as he does! His dedication to the game has undoubtedly kept him active and young at heart. At this rate, we wouldn't be surprised if he's still bowling at 110! Congrats to Phil, from all across the Palm Lake Group!

D-Bay delight.

It's been a record-breaking year for the charitable bunch at Palm Lake Resort Deception Bay. In 2024, they recycled a record 39,141 containers and donated more than $3900 to Farm Angels (Farm Angels provides support to rural communities in time of flood, fire, drought and plagues). They also collected and donated items for hampers for the needy over the festive season, supporting organisations such as Community Care Network and The Lighthouse. Go team!

Homeowner golfers unite on the green.

GOLF IS DEFINITELY ONE WAY THAT OUR HOMEOWNERS BOND ACROSS RESORT ADDRESSES - AND THE MOST RECENT PALM LAKE INTER-RESORT GOLF CLASSIC IS PROOF OF THIS.

For the third successive year, Caloundra Cay golfers won the Palm Lake Resort Cup, but this time it was by the skinniest of margins. The winning resort team score was 60.32 (Caloundra Cay) over Pelican Waters (60.857) and Beachmere Bay (61.0). Golfers from Palm Lake Resorts at Pelican Waters, Toowoomba, Cooroy-Noosa, Beachmere Sands, Beachmere Bay, Hervey Bay and Caloundra Cay took part in the annual event, teaming up at the superb Pelican Waters Golf Course which is owned and operated by the Palm Lake Group.

And despite an absolute drenching in the days leading up to the event – which had been abandoned five days earlier – the course was presented in unbelievably good condition for the 31 teams and 120 individuals representing Palm Lake Resort homeowners.

Competing in a four-person Ambrose, the Beachmere Bay team of Graeme Clark, Michael Gregory, Stephen Walton and Ronald Rosenberger won the day, returning a nett score of 58.625. The Pelican Waters group of Steve Whitehead, Brendan Francome, Glenn Stamp and Ronald Wilkins (59) finished second, and Caloundra Cay's Ian Chew, Heather Busch, Trish McConnell and Terry Jones (59.625) came in third. But it was the overall scoring of the nine Caloundra Cay teams that resulted in the win, and the trophy returning to its 'home' at Hemingways Country Club.

Our congrats to Greg.

Palm Lake Group was pleased to hear that Australian sporting identity Greg Norman was handpicked by Prime Minister Anthony Albanese to join the board organising the 2032 Brisbane Olympic and Paralympic Games. Greg Norman Golf Course Design was the team behind the original Pelican Waters Golf Course layout and they also helped our local team reconfigure the course to make way for Palm Lake Resort Pelican Waters. Greg is a supporter of the Palm Lake Group and we couldn't think of anyone more perfectly suited to this Olympic role. We send our congratulations to Greg and look forward to hosting him at Pelican Waters for a round, when he's in town.

Bravo Barnacles!

Palm Lake Resort Barga's "Palm Lake Singers" is a choir formed by the resort's homeowners. This choir's male members have formed an additional separate choir group called "The Barnacles". Pictured above, the group stopped by Palm Lake Care Barga recently and made a huge impression on the very grateful audience. We love seeing our homeowners involved in inter-resort events but it's just as great to see our resort homeowners and aged care communities coming together for mutual benefit. Bravo Barnacles!

Tell us what's happening over your back fence.

Has your resort got a warm and fuzzy "Over the back fence" story to share with the whole Palm Lake Resort group? Are you and/or your neighbours doing something special that you're proud of - and you know we'd be proud of too? We'd love to hear from you and include your story in these pages in the next editions of all our resort newsletters.
